This Record of Achievement has been prepared for...

Harrison Cook

The Student Record of Achievement provides a comprehensive report on the student's skills, achievements and personal attributes. The NCEA results shown are only those that have been NZQA verified.

It is compiled from assessments by his teachers and information provided by the student himself.

Every effort is made to provide a fair and accurate document. For that reason, the student's performance in the current year at College plays an important part in his assessment.

The Record of Achievement has been accepted and affirmed both by the student himself and staff before it has been signed.

Comments

Harrison is an outgoing, well-organised and enthusiastic student. He has contributed to the life of the school and has given excellent service to the Performing Arts. Harrison has an exemplary pastoral and attendance record.

From Year 9, Harrison has always been involved. He has chosen the performing arts as his contribution. Harrison is a member of the School Choir, has been in Combined Colleges' Production every year, in the Shakespeare Festival and the Stage Band. He has managed this while maintaining a full academic load. All of his performing arts directors and tutors describe him as a team player who is reliable, confident, outgoing and someone who will go out of his way to help others. He is on time to rehearsals and brings an enthusiasm that is both infectious and inspirational.

In the classroom, Harrison is a model student. He manages his own learning, has exceptional time management skills and is persistent. Harrison has a good deal of natural ability. This combined with an intellectual curiosity and well-developed work ethic, has meant that he is an Excellence student. His teachers all comment on what a pleasure he is to have in the class. His mature attitude and enthusiasm contributes to a positive working environment that benefits all. Harrison will go out of his way to help others.

One of Harrison's main strengths is his ability to relate well to all students, regardless of age or background. He has a fine set of values that he will not compromise to be popular. Harrison is respected and liked by his peers.

We are confident that Harrison will be a success at whatever endeavour he chooses to undertake. His intellect, work ethic, ability to relate to others and many fine personal qualities will ensure this.
